Attention, Doctors.

Everybody knows that the life of the average physician is a hard one. He is often compelled to ride great distances through mud and rain for a merely nominal fee. It is not fit nor proper for us to condemn any physician for his work, but we do assert that his practice can be made casier, and he can effect more cures by the proper and judicious use of PRIUNA. If he will only add this great remedy to his list of medicines he will find that his usefulness will be greatly increased. Full direction for its use will be found in the "His of Life," and he should at once procure this valuable book.

N. J. Wright, Business Agent Evening Herald, Eric, Pa., says: "Dn. Harrman—I can not but feel it my duty to express to you my thanks for the great benefit I received from the use of your medicines, PREUNA and MANALIN. One bottle of each placed me square on my feet, after a sickness of four weeks, which confined me to my bed, and then left me lame and crippled. Three days from the commencement of the use of your remedies the cane was dispensed with, and in n week I was perfectly well."

Mrs. Ellen Maynard, Oswego, Potter county, Pa., writes: "Dn. HARTMAN, Columbus, O. The small uleers are all healed, and the two large ones are not more than half as large as they were. I am feeling quite well. The people say your PERUNA and MANALIN are doing a miracle. I do not take nearly so much opiam as I did before."

Joseph Thomas, East Brady, Pa., writes: "I have used your PERUNA and MANALIN, and and mow as healthy as I have ever been, I have also recommended it to exceed assetting a state of the peruns and massetting and they shave been much become a sure of the peruns and massetting and they shave been much become a sure of the peruns and so peruns and massetting and they say been much become a sure of the mean and so peruns and so peru

Horse Breeding.

No breeders of horses, perhaps, are more painstaking or more successful than those of Scotland; and their methods are sufficiently peculiar to merit special mention. The selection of stallions for neighborhood service is thoroughly systematized, and is an altogether different matter from the method, or rather lack of method, in vogue in the United States. The mode of procedure is something like this: Those in any given neighborhood who are especially interested in horses choose from among their number a few men well fitted for that work, and have them attend stallion shows, which are instituted for the purpose of giving the public a chance to select horses for neighborhood service. The committee visit these shows, inspect the animals on exhibition, and contract with some horse owner or owners for the exclusive use of their horse or horses by his clients for the No breeders of horses, perhaps, are owner or owners for the exclusive use of their horse or horses by his clients for the period of two years. The terms of service are agreed upon, all the details are arranged, and not infrequently a handsome premium is given in addition for an unusually desirable stallion. The good points of this system are obvious. Among others the community has an opportunity of bid-ALLEN'S Brain Food botanical extract strengthens the Brain and positively cares where the proofs of merit must be forthcoming. The Batterand the Cow. The Batter and the Cow.
A correspondent of the Imerican Agriculturist says that the color in the skin of a cow indicates color in the butter. He has never seen a yellow-skinned cow that gave pale butter, or a very rich colored skin in a cow that did not give yellow or yellowish butter all through the winter. When the yolk, which gives this color to the ears, tail and skin, begins to show in the call, it will probably never show less, and what butter the cows gives will be of goodcolor.
